

19/20 Season

Welcome to our 2019-2020 concert season at the Wharton Institute for the Performing Arts!

As New Jersey's largest non-profit community performing arts education organization and serving over 1,500 young musicians and life-long learners in a vibrant and supportive environment, we continue to expand and deepen our three thriving program branches: the New Jersey Youth Symphony (NJYS), Paterson Music Project (PMP), and Performing Arts School (PAS).

We are thrilled to invite you again this season to over 35 public concerts presented in some of the best performance venues in New Jersey: from NJYS' 15 ensembles, ranging from symphonic masterworks to jazz and beyond, to the PMP Concert Orchestra and Band and talented PAS faculty and students. Please find all details of our concerts in this season brochure and online at WhartonArts.org.

Providing the highest quality in music education in a supportive environment to a wide range of students is and remains our highest commitment. We hope to see you at many of our exciting performances and to welcome you to our musical family!
